

All details great & small

19-22 June 2018

790 delegates

67 companies exhibiting

330 exhibitors

Why Claudelands Conference & Exhibition Centre was an easy choice for the New Zealand Veterinarian Association Conference 2018.

Organisers needed to think big when it came to the New Zealand Veterinarian Association (NZVA) Conference in June 2018.

The only veterinarian conference held in the country that year, the event – with the theme ‘All Creatures Great and Small’ – attracted 790 delegates from throughout New Zealand and Australia.

The conference comprised seven streams across the first three days, followed by five workshops on the final day. Rounding off the conference programme was an on-site gala dinner and an exhibition involving 330 exhibitors from 67 companies.

Having held conferences at Claudelands Conference & Exhibition Centre four times prior to 2018, NZVA made the decision to return to Hamilton with full confidence that the venue and its team could deliver on its vision.

Claudelands’ generous conference room offering, coupled with its large exhibition space was a major drawcard for organisers.

“Claudelands is ideal for a multi-stream conference with a large exhibition requirement. It ticks all the boxes when it comes to space, audio-visual and catering requirements. A big credit to the venue is the staff who help run the conference – they are focussed on providing solutions that will work with your event to ensure it is successful.”

The NZVA praised the Claudelands team and their key partners including audio-visual specialists Vidcom and exclusive caterers Montana Food and Events for accommodating special requests and taking on board feedback where ever possible.

Where requests could not be met, the team worked to find alternative solutions to achieve the desired results – helping ensure all details were taken care of and that the 2018 New Zealand Veterinarian Conference was another highly successful event for its client.

“Having worked with Claudelands over a number of years, it’s great to know there is a team as dedicated as they are in ensuring a successful event. The flexible venue space and top-rate staff means odd requests and the unexpected are received easily, making the venue perfect for any event and event manager!”
